What we are learning...

In reading this week, students have been assessing for RTI and 2nd quarter. In Word Work students learned to read and write long o words and various spelling patterns (oa, ow, o_e). They also compared long and short vowel words. Next week we will be learning long u. In math students learned that addition sentences can look like a train (horizontal) or a tower (vertical). Next week they will be working on subtraction and assessing 2nd quarter goals. In writing workshop, students have been assessing. In Social Studies, students learned about Helen Keller and her accomplishments with a braille alphabet.

Looking to help? Any box tops that you can cut out and send in could earn the school $1,000! So please cut and send BOXTOPS to help if you can. ☺

As the winter weather appears, we request a warm coat, boots, hats, and mittens for outdoor recess. Snow pants would also be great but are not a necessity. (We go out as long as it is not below 32 degrees)

We ran out of our stock of "brought from home" tissues this week. If you'd like your child to have softer tissues, you are always able to send some in.
